

You can receive a “Good Faith Estimate” explaining how much your medical care will cost

Health care providers can give patients who don't have insurance an estimate of their bill for medical procedures and services.

If requested, you have can receive a Good Faith Estimate for the total expected cost of any non-emergent medical procedure or service not covered by insurance. This includes any related costs like medical tests and hospital fees.

Central Valley Medical Center and other participating providers can give you a Good Faith Estimate before you schedule your procedure or service (and you are encouraged to request it in advance). However, the Good Faith estimate will be provided in writing if requested no less than 1 business day before your medical service or procedure according to the guidelines.

If you receive a bill that is $400 or more than your Good Faith Estimate, you may request a dispute resolution process prescribed by the guidelines.

Make sure to save a copy of your Good Faith Estimate.
